

NICNAS New Chemicals Fundamentals

Workshops on the regulation of new industrial chemicals

Are you responsible for ensuring regulatory compliance for new industrial chemicals?

Are you mystified by the NICNAS notification and assessment process?

Do you want to learn more about how to prepare a new chemicals notification package, including the new options for low regulatory concern chemicals?

If you answered 'yes' to any of these questions then don't miss the NICNAS New Chemicals Fundamentals Workshops. These two half-day training workshops are being run by the NICNAS Notification and Assessment team, in Sydney, prior to the HAZMAT 2009 Conference.

Date: Tuesday 28th April Venue: The Mercure, Sydney

Morning workshop (9am-12.30pm)

Aimed at new notifiers and those needing a refresher course on NICNAS and the notification and assessment process. It will include AICS searching, exemptions, annual reporting, choosing a notification category and how to notify.

Afternoon workshop (1.30pm-5pm)

A more in-depth look at the notification and assessment process including training on the new LRCC categories. This workshop will be most suitable for those directly involved in preparing notification submissions.

Come to either workshop or come for the whole day.

Per person costs

For one workshop only: $220.00 (includes lunch)

For the whole day: $370.00 (includes both sessions and lunch)

To register

Please complete the registration overleaf and fax to NICNAS on (02) 8577 8888.

Spaces are limited so please book early. Registrations close on 7 April 2009.
